

Write a Poem

The Global Goals poem you watched/read is a type of poetry called Spoken Word. Can you guess why it is called this? It is because spoken word poetry is meant to be read aloud. Of course, you can read it too, but it is usually performed, like a play or a musical!

Try to write your own spoken word poem about the Global Goals. Read the Global Goals poem you watched for an example. You do not have to write about all of the goals (that's a lot!). Choose one or two which interest you. Then, if you want to, perform your poem at home!
